President's Message

Bill Christ

Shanty Creek Resort offers a host of amenities which can be viewed on their website at: www.shantycreek.com.

This year's speaker is Leslie Charles.

INSPIRED ACTION

Today's economic meltdown means "business as usual" is no longer a choice. With over thirty years of experience in training, speaking, and facilitating, Leslie Charles has honed her skills of self-expression, group dynamics, and relevant wit, making her an effective practitioner of personal and professional development. Whether conducting in-house programs or creating presentations for conferences and larger venues, her skill set is ideal for helping individuals or organizational teams take their performance to the next level.

Leslie posits that opportunity and adversity are constant companions, making this a perfect time to "mine" your operation for untapped intelligence, innovation, and concrete actions that can make a big difference for your staff, systems, and quality of service. Regardless of the venue, Leslie speaks from experience on how to bring out your best under the worst of circumstances.

Adept in blending resilience, reserve, and resourcefulness, she knows what it takes to prevail regardless of the obstacles life puts in your way. Leslie encourages people to acknowledge and assess where they are right now in comparison to where they want to be, offering practical suggestions and action plans for reconciling the difference. Because she's gone through this process in her own life, her mission is to help others realize their potential so they can live and work with less stress, more satisfaction, and increased success in all their endeavors.

You're sure to come away with a positive attitude and renewed enthusiasm.

GET SMART: AGENT 99 WOULD BE BLOWN AWAY

By Mark Bruno, Digital Media Manager

According to a recent article on the website Tech Crunch, a Berlin-based research organization that specializes in mobile technology recently forecasted the worldwide smart phone application market to reach $15 billion by 2013. The firm Research2Guidance.com claims the global smart phone app market has, in fact, already reaches $2.2 billion in the first six months of 2010. And where once the development of smart phone applications was squarely in the realm of big business budgets, small business owners are now getting into the game, as well.

End users can use apps to create awareness of their services by providing users with easy mobile access to a company website, Twitter and Facebook page, email and phone number. Customer service can be improved by giving current customers access to your services with greater ease, Apps allow small users to operate “larger.” A perfect industry example of all the in action is Clockwork Home Services Iphone app, which allows customers to find plumbing, electrician, heating and air conditioning experts in their area.

Customers can even request service directly from the app itself.

Manufacturers are also using smart phone apps in new and unique ways to drive profits and attract new customers, RIDGID, for example, has incorporated Microsoft Tags into their advertisements. With an app called “TagReader,” customers can scan specially created images with their phone, which then might open a Web page, display a message, or dial a number. And there are no lone URL’s to type or SMS messages to send. Starting this month, the entire RIDGID ad schedule will have Microsoft tags.

“We strive to find new and exciting ways to engage with those in the professional trades—in ways they already digest other information like news and sports. The use of tag technology is an exciting and engaging way to provide data they want in a way they are already comfortable with,” said RIDGID’s Steve Dyer, director of marketing communications. “We live in a “gotta have it now” and “always on” society. Tag technology feeds that desire to have the latest information right at your finger tips, when and where you want it.”

Between documenting expenses and processing credit cards from just about anywhere in the U.S. smart phone applications have changed the way many business operate, Now, there are even more reasons why p-h-c users and manufacturers can turn to these apps to enhance the way customers interact with their products and services—and even boost their bottom lines.

Unrelenting efficiency.

The 00 Variable Speed Delta-T.

We all know that variable speed circulators save electricity by slowing down when zones close. Taco has gone a step further by tying variable speed to the system's Delta-T, the water temperature differential between the supply and return piping. While all this sounds complex, it's quite logical.

We make every BTU count.

By reading the Delta-T, the 00-VDT's microprocessor varies speed based on the actual BTUs needed by the system, pumping just the right amount of flow – no more, no less – all the time. There's no guesswork involved, no energy wasted. Your customers can save 4%-5% off their annual fuel bill year after year.

The e-smart system: even more savings.

Add Taco Zone Sentry® zone valves and a ZVC-EXP Series zone valve control and you'll have an e-smart system, the most efficient hydronic zoning system you can buy. Period.

Learn more online.

Read up on e-smart, Delta-T, and variable speed technology by joining our FloPro Team online, where you'll find e-learning videos, courses, and community. Visit www.taco-hvac.com/flopro.

e-smart is our way of helping you quickly identify our most resource-saving products.

We had an opportunity to honor these two members of the UA 190 Joint Training Committee who have dedicated numerous hours for the benefit of this program.

They have been tireless members of the JTC actively conducting the business of the program, while also spending an unbelievable number of hours interviewing potential candidates. Each has participated in over 1,000 interviews during their time on the Board. Newt has served for 27 years starting on September 1, 1983 and John served 24 years starting on April 24, 1986.

Annual Inspector's Luncheon

Greater Michigan PMC held its Annual Inspector's Luncheon in December. The luncheon program was emceed by Jeff Darr, Boone & Darr, Inc. (left).

A number of PMC retirees, PMC members, inspectors, and Kevin Groeb, new UA 190 Business Manager, along with MPMCA

Executive Director Cynthia Maher (below) addressed the meeting. All the necessary ingredients were in place for a successful luncheon and a remarkable party.

The luncheon provides an ideal opportunity for contractors and their employees to meet with local and state inspectors and officials in an informal setting to discuss items of mutual concern.

It also gives all in attendance the opportunity to hear what is coming from each of the departments in the New Year.

Again, this years luncheon attendees had an opportunity to donate to the Toys for Tots and Food Gatherers to help our local community. Locally, Toys for Tots has had the best year ever, passing out over 29,000 toys to 850 families, and collecting $7,987.

PMC Sunset Cruise at MCAA Convention

PMC held their Annual Greater MI Night during the MCAA Convention, and it was an amazing event. Michigan MCA and Detroit MCA also participated with sponsorship.

The event was scheduled as a Sunset Cruise along with whale watching. PMC chartered The Odessey. It was a great boat with an amazingly smooth ride, which is a plus when you have cocktails and food.

Narrative was provided by the Pacific Whale Foundation. It was a beautiful sunset, with the whale watching — amazing. We saw humpbacks with their babies playfully co-existing along side the boat. At one point there were two humpbacks soaring up and back into the ocean, almost as if you were at the whale show at SeaWorld.

MASB Exhibit Show

Executive Associate, Diane Calmeyn, attended the Michigan Association of School Boards Conference (MASB). The Exhibit Show brings education and business together, giving the opportunity to be more visible to those who make school purchasing decisions.

The booth was sponsored by the Michigan Construction Roundtable and was attended by representatives of the Michigan AGC, Michigan MCA, National Electrical Contractors Association (NECA), Michigan Building and Construction Trades Council and the International Masonry Institute.

The mission of the MASB is to provide quality educational leadership services for all Michigan boards of education, and to advocate for student achievement and public education.

The 1,000,000th Bradford White ICON System™ Water Heater!

It's hard to beat a solid track record. As we start our second million, we know success breeds imitators. Other similar valves will hit the market, but they have a lot of catching up to do before they achieve the reliable performance and stellar reputation of The Bradford White ICON System™.

Having the well tested, proven technology of over one million Bradford White ICON System water heaters in the field is a statistic you and your business can depend upon.

If you haven't tried the ICON system, here's another reason to make the switch. The Bradford White ICON System remains the only "wholesale only" intelligent gas control valve sold exclusively through plumbing professionals.

Bradford White would like to thank all of you who have embraced this innovative technology and made the ICON System the incredible success it has become.

MID-MICHIGAN JATC VISITS
 UA LOCAL 357 TRAINING CENTER

The Mid-Michigan JATC Trust Committee met for their Semi-Annual Meeting on March 25, 2011 at the UA Local 357 Hall/Training Center in Schoolcraft. Those in attendance included Chairman Judd VanCoppennolle of UA Local 333, JATC Administrator John Reilly, Sr., Secretary/Treasurer Larry Gunthorpe, Richard Ogrizovich of UA Local 357, Tom Willson of UA Local 357, Steve Wiley of UA Local 357, Mark Mangione of UA Local 174, Bart Anderson of UA Local 333 and Becky Brimley of 3MCA.

A tour of the facility followed after the meeting, which featured the various trainers used in UA local 357's training program, as well as an Energy Audit demonstration conducted by Steve Wiley (pictured left, bottom pictures).

The Mid-Michigan JATC recently purchased the Energy Audit equipment, which included a thermal imager (bottom picture) and a Blower Door System (pictured left). Mr. Wiley will be incorporating the use of the new equipment in his HVAC apprenticeship-training program. The Blower Door testing provides a diagnostic assessment of the air leakage of a building while the Thermal Imager measures temperature differences indicating air leaks near windows, doors, ductwork and vents.

Once an Energy Audit is conducted, the building owner will be able to assess the building's energy consumption and then evaluate what measures can be taken to make the building more efficient. An Energy Audit will show what problems need to be corrected to save significant amounts of money over time.

“Rain rain go away,
come again some other day.”

It's what building owners sing when they're not protected.

► What do the Beach Boys,

T&S low-lead faucets have in common?

► They all got their start in California, and they all swept the nation. Although California led the way with the AB1953 legislation mandating low-lead faucets, it's only a matter of time until they are required in all states. And T&S is ready — all of our faucets are low-lead compliant and are available across the country. And, as always, T&S faucets are as rugged and reliable as they come, and meet the requirements of the Buy America Act. Contact your sales rep for more information.

Tom Williams, past MCAA President; conducted workshops on ‘Lessons Learned from the Most Productive Foremen’ & ‘Lessons Learned from the Most Productive Project Managers’ at the UA174 Hall. Over fifty people participated in this day long learning event.

Walt Sperko conducted a workshop focusing on “Welder & Welder Operation Performance Qualification in accordance with ASME Section IX in a (rather large) Nutshell...” Nineteen people participated in the event. Dave Doyle, Rite-Way Plumbing & Heating, commented “Always good to hear from Walt. This was a worthwhile event”. After the morning workshop, Walt audited the local NCPWB chapter; his comment was “Good working chapter”!

Promoting a quality certified workforce, Chapter 18 of the NCPWB has 100 certified welders. The Joint NCPWB/UA welding program has scheduled the following 2011 joint test events at the UA174 Training Center: January 15, March 19, May 21, July 9, Sept 17 and October 15.

The UA174 and WMMCA Executive Boards participated in annual ‘meet and greet’ dinner event at Sam’s Joint in Coopersville, MI. This was a good opportunity for networking in an informal setting. Meldon Atkins, UA174 Vice-President, presented to Tom Jasper, WMMCA Vice-President, an antique Andy Egan Company advertisement found at a job site.

Congratulations to Russ Borst, VP Service Hurst Mechanical in his appointment to the International Pipe Trades Joint Training Committee for 2011.

A new Collections Policy was instituted for UA174 fringe benefits funds. Direct Deposit procedures have also been implemented.

The West Michigan Mechanical Contractors Association was established to represent and service, its members in Grand Rapids, Muskegon and the Lakeshore areas of Michigan. Association members dedicate themselves to quality, dependability, safety, education and community service as they serve as the primary liaison for labor relations and multi-employer collective bargaining.
